Application for Membership

Confidential

ALPSP accepts members on the understanding that those members adhere to legal and ethical good practice, and will not bring ALPSP into disrepute through their own activities or business practices. When applying for membership we require applicants to assert compliance with the ALPSP guidelines for membership.

All applications for membership are considered by ALPSP Council which reserves the right to ask the applicant for appropriate supporting information. Should any member be reported to be in breach of these guidelines, ALPSP reserves the right to cancel membership. ALPSP takes no responsibility for the adherence of members to these guidelines.
